McVey and Judge Stoll

Hiroshi Saito, who is charge d'affaires of the Japanese embassy at Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker at the general convocation at 10 a. m. today in Memorial hall. Pres. Frank L. McVey will preside.

Saito will speak upon the subject of "The Far Eastern Situation" and is expected to present the Japanese side of the recent Manchurian controversy. In addition to having served as Japanese Consul General for a number of years in New York City, Saito has been connected with the Japanese intelligence service in London and Tokyo.

Following his arrival in Lexington at 8:15 a. m., the Japanese diplomat will be the guest of President and Mrs. McVey at breakfast in the Maxwell home. After his address at the general convocation, Saito will be a dinner guest of Judge R. C. Stoll. At 3 p. m. he will discuss questions of the Far East before a group of graduate students and faculty members in the general library. Saito will be the principal speaker at a dinner sponsored by the International Relations class which will be held at 6:15 tonight in Boyd hall. All people desiring to attend the dinner are requested to make reservations with Dean Sarah G. Blandling.

Following a trip to Frankfort Saturday morning, Saito will be presented to Gov. Ruby Laffoon, after which he will return to Washington.

Research Club
Has Third Meeting

Dr. Chamberlain and Mrs. E. J. Asher Give Short Talks on Education

Third in a series of regular meetings of the Research club was held last night in McVey hall. The principal speakers were Dr. L. M. Chamberlain and Mr. E. J. Asher. Dinner was served in the cafeteria at 5:45 p. m., after which the club adjourned to Room 109, McVey hall.

The program consisted of the reading of several papers. Doctor Chamberlain addressed the group on the "Work of the Kentucky Education Association," in which he discussed the task presented the educational leaders of the state.

Following Doctor Chamberlain's speech, E. J. Asher of the psychology department made a brief report on "The Co-operative Testing Service." He told of the organization last spring of the testing service by the Kentucky Association of Colleges. This service will offer tests in English and mathematical achievement to colleges and high schools of the state next year. Mr. Asher is chairman of the technical committee.

After a general discussion on subjects of interest, the club meeting was brought to a close.

BEAUTIES TO BE CHOSEN
AT KYIAN HOP SATURDAY

Curtain Will Rise on First of 26 Contestants Promptly at 9 p. m. in Alumni Gymnasium; Pathe Expected

Starting promptly at 9 p. m., the curtain will rise on the first of the 26 contestants entered in the Kentuckian beauty contest and will start the annual yearbook dance to be held from 9 until 12 p. m. Saturday in the Alumni gymnasium.

Inaugurating a new method of selecting the beauties for the university annual, co-eds will be selected this year from personal appearance as well as from photographs, out of town judges having been engaged for the occasion. The entrants will be presented in individual still life poses, culminating in a final review of the entire group at the close of the sketches. For the show, a special stage will be erected complete with back and front drops and a special lighting system. The apparatus has been designed by G. L. Crutcher and is so constructed that the floor can be cleared for dancing in less than ten minutes.

The dancing which will commence immediately at the end of the contest will be "formal preferred" and special lighting will eliminate the use of main lights in the gymnasium. At 11:30 p. m. the winners will be announced just prior to the fifth no-break which will be given in their honor.

Attempts are being made to procure Pathe News cameramen to film the event and arrangements are being made with Hillary G. Bailey, Indianapolis photographer, well known for his "Shadow Art" portraits, to make special pictures to be sent to College Humor for the cover contest being presented by that publication.

VARSIY-ALUMNI
TO MEET TONIGHT

Former Stars of Wildcat Teams To Play Varsity In First Game of Season

FROSH ALSO TO PLAY

An All-star Alumni team will meet the Wildcat basketball team in the Alumni gymnasium at 7:30 tonight, preceded by a game between the Freshmen and a strong independent team. The games are being held under the auspices of the University Alumni association.

This game precedes the regular season by three days as the varsity plays the Georgetown Tigers on the home floor Monday night. The Big Blue is in good shape and there is but one position in doubt, that of the guard post left vacant by Charlie Worthington who failed to return to school.

Every man who will play on the Alumni team was a star player while a member of the Wildcat team and several were All-Southern players. Lawrence McGinnis, All-American and All-Southern player, will act as captain of the Alumni team and has issued invitations to practically all the members of the cage squads for the past few years. Numbered among the Alumni stars are Pisgah Combs, "Little" McGinnis, Carey Spicer, coach at Georgetown college, Len Miller, Coaches Turkey Hughes and "Alf" Portwood from the Eastern Teachers' College, "Baldy" Gibb, Paul McBrayer, and Jake Bronston, All-Southern guards, Bill Trott, Lawrence Crump, Will Milward and Stanley Milward, former star centers, and Bill King, member of the only Kentucky team to win the championship of the South.

Even with the numerous stars numbered in the ranks of the graduates, they will not have an easy evening with the present Wildcat five. The 'Cats are in good shape and are expected to give the Alumni a very unpleasant evening.

There will be a small admission charge to the general public and to students with their ticket books. This money will go to the Alumni fund.

The frosh team of Coach "Spinner" Campbell will make its first appearance of the year playing the Smith-Walkins club or some other strong independent team. The frosh have displayed potential strength in their series of drills with the varsity and bid fair to be as great a team as that of the frosh of last year.

Wednesday afternoon Coach Rupp sent the varsity through a hard scrimmage, using both the frosh and the varsity reserves as opponents. The defense functioned well but the offense could not get going and the coach used various combinations before he got one that really counted. (Continued on Page Four)

"Of Thee I Sing"
Will Be Reviewed

Mrs. Virgil Gaitskill To Read Pulitzer Prize Play for Engineers

At the engineering assembly, to be held at 10 a. m. Wednesday morning, December 14, in Memorial hall, Mrs. Virgil Gaitskill will review the play "Of Thee I Sing". Last year Mrs. Gaitskill gave a reading of "Green Pastures" at one of the engineering assemblies.

"Of Thee I Sing" is a satirical musical comedy. It was written by George Kaufman and Morrie Ryskin. The musical score is by George Gershwin and national politics furnish the material for the satire. "Of Thee I Sing" was the Pulitzer prize winner last year, the first time the prize has been awarded to a musical comedy.

Mrs. Gaitskill will be assisted by Mrs. Edna Dryden of Paris, who will sing the musical selections, and by Miss Sidney Redmond, also of Paris, who will play the accompaniment. The public is cordially invited to attend this convocation.

Theta Sigma Phi
Will Give Final
Leap Year Dance

Patterson Hall Is Scene of Affair; Hours Are from 4 to 6 p. m. Saturday

By JOAN CARIGAN

Pause a moment maid, you aged white head,—you may call him Father Time,—how impudently he swings his unerring scythe, cutting his allotted swath. Mark how slender seconds and fat years laid before the attack of the blade. See, how swiftly fall the days left in leap year, one year of grace out of every four.

The year is fast waning in which customs of courtship are turned about, that one, who for so long must wait to be wooed, may play the role of wooer. At fete she has been given the ascendancy usually accorded the masculine element. All these privileged are being withdrawn until 1936 brings another leap year.

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary women's journalism fraternity, has prepared a grand finale of leap year social events, a leap year dance to be held from 4 to 6 p. m. Saturday in the recreation hall of Patterson hall.

At this hop, replete with five no-breaks, all virtues and vices for which leap year is infamous will be displayed mercilessly. Tantalizing music by Roy Sharpe and his nine piece orchestra will give a triumphant ring to this leap year's swan song.

Considering some cold and very hard facts, one realizes that in the three years that must pass before the next leap year mean 36 months; or 156 weeks; 1095 days; 26,280 hours; 1,576,800 minutes; or 94,608,000 seconds of waiting, and perhaps she will be fast approaching that period of life at which she is maiden lady.

Just a few cold facts, girls. In case some one wants to be forewarned of the chaparones, they will include Miss Marie Barkley, Mrs. W. L. Salyers, Mrs. J. J. O'Brien, Mrs. W. M. Nevins, Mrs. W. L. Dickinson, Mrs. Enoch Graham, Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Portmann, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffin, Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, and Dean Sarah Blandling.

Wildcat Center
To Play Charity
Game in South

Frank Seale, for three years a member of the Wildcat football team and one of the most outstanding centers in the South will play in the annual charity football game of the East against the South. The game will be played Saturday in Baltimore, Maryland, and will be broadcast over a nation-wide hook-up.

Seale was the only man from Kentucky selected by the board who picked the southern squad and will receive all his traveling expenses and incidentals. He left Lexington Sunday night and has been in Baltimore all this week practicing. Athletes from Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Alabama, Tulane, Duke, and other Southern conference schools are represented on the team.

Senior members of teams from Army, Navy, New York University, Pennsylvania, Penn State, Colgate, Princeton, Harvard, Yale and Pittsburg are numbered on the eastern aggregation. The southern team is coached by Coach Dick Harlowe of Western Maryland and is conceded an edge over the Easterners.

CLUB TO HEAR CAROLS

A program of selected Christmas carols will be presented by the St. Catherine's Academy orchestra at a regular monthly meeting of the Catholic club at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, in the Gold room of the Lafayette hotel. Joe S. Reister, chairman of the program committee is in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

LEXINGTON FANS WILL SEE FORMER
STARS IN GAME

Kelly, Cagle, Lumpkin Will Play When Spartans Meet Giants

GAME WILL BE CALLED AT 2:00 ON STOLL FIELD

Game Will Be First Professional Tilt Ever Held in Lexington

Two of the best teams in the national pro-football league, the New York Giants and the Portsmouth Spartans, will meet at 2 p. m. Saturday on historic Stoll field, in the first "pro" game ever played in this section.

A great battle is expected between the two teams because both have defeated the strongest team in the league, the Green Bay Packers, and are old rivals. "Red" Cagle, all-American halfback and former Army captain, is captain of the Giants. The Spartans are led by "Father" Lumpkins, who starred in the backfield at Georgia Tech.

"Shipwreck" Kelly, one of the greatest athletes ever to wear the Blue and White of Kentucky, although out with injuries during most of the season, has been recognized as one of the most elusive backs in the National league. While a member of the 'Cats, the Springfield flash was a constant threat to every team he played against. Kelly is expected to play for a few minutes Saturday and may play the whole game, if he comes through a physical examination all right.

The Giants arrived in town late Wednesday night and worked out on Stoll field Thursday morning and in the afternoon were taken for a tour of the horse-farms in the Bluegrass. The Giants impressed the spectators as being very strong on offense and a team that depends more than anything on power, with an occasional flash of elusiveness provided by Kelly and Cagle.

In an interview Cagle, the former Army star, told the writer that he expected to win from the Spartans but that he expected a hard fought game. Cagle and the team are enjoying the old Kentucky hospitality to the limit and say that they think Kentucky is a great state.

The members of the teams are from all sections of the nation, and several all-Americans are listed among the players. The tackles and guards range from 215 pounds and both the ends are over 200 pounds. Kelly and Cagle are the smallest men on the squad which numbers only 15 men.

Clancy, former Holy Cross luminary, and Burnette, halfback from Emporia Teachers College in Kansas, tip the beams at around 195 pounds and are fast and elusive. Moinda, line plunging fullback from Michigan, gives his weight at 215 pounds and is an excellent defensive man. Murtaugh, former center at Georgetown U., who fills the same position for the Giants, is a tower of strength on the defense and stars as well on the offense.

FALL ASSEMBLY
PLANS CHANGED

Organization Is Unable To Secure French Speaker Before March Because of Budget Limitations

Because of budget limitations, the fall convocation given each year to Pan-Politian student organization for the study of the cultures and customs of other countries has been postponed until March.

According to officers of the student group, Representative Virgil Chapman has been negotiating with the French ambassador, Paul Claudel, in an endeavor to bring him to the University as a speaker. Because of financial conditions the Frenchman was not able to come to Kentucky for a fall convocation.

In the meantime various professors on the campus have delivered lectures to the classes on phases of life in France in which their classes were interested. Speakers have lectured at convocations held in both the agriculture and engineering colleges. They spoke on French contributions to the farming and scientific world.

Victor Bogart, Lexington business man, addressed the engineers on topics of interest to those students. In the art department Professor Rannells spoke to the classes and in addition conducted one public lecture. He used the collection shown in the recent art exhibit as examples of French painting and in his talk pointed out characteristics that are typical of the French artists whose works were on display.

Other Pan-Politian features that are being prepared include a music program and the rendering of the opera Faust by members of the men's club. While the program scheduled for the second semester included the study of Switzerland, financial conditions make it necessary to drop the study of the Alpine republic.

1933 CAPTAIN AND ALTERNATE

Alternate Captain-elect Ralph Kercheval, Salt Lick, a junior in the College of Agriculture was named alternate leader of the Big Blue for next season. For two years Kercheval has been acknowledged as the foremost kicker in the South.

Howard "Dutch" Kreuter, Newport, captain-elect of the 1933 Wildcat football team is a junior in the College of Education and a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. He has played for two seasons at end for the Big Blue and is considered one of the best ends in the entire south and received honorable mention on the all-Southern team this season.

Organizations
Pledge Aid To
New Frat Group

Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Chi To Cooperate With New Frat Council

Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Chi fraternities have pledged their cooperation in organizing a new inter-fraternity council provided a suitable program can be worked out by the group. This was announced following a meeting of the faculty and undergraduate organization committees at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Delta Tau Delta house.

A special committee, consisting of Gordon Burns, chairman, Horace Miner, Richard Clark, H. V. Bastin, and Prof. Roy Moreland were appointed to make a thorough study of the situation and to draw up a prospective constitution and by-laws. This committee contemplates writing to the national inter-fraternity conference and to several of the leading universities to secure suggestions and solutions to the various problems which are common to such organizations. The plans when perfected will be submitted to the various fraternities for ratification.

After organization has been effected a complete program of university and fraternity activities will be carried out.

Officers of the present group are Gordon Burns, president; Harvey Mattingly, vice-president, J. D. O'Rourke, secretary, and Bill Lumber, treasurer. All national social organizations are admitted to the order as it is constituted at present.

Guignol Selects
"The Critic" For
Week of Jan. 9

The Guignol theater will present "The Critic," Richard Brinsley Sheridan's three-act comedy, which will be presented the week of January 9 as the curtain raiser for the 1933 dramatic season in Lexington, and Director Frank Fowler is busy at the present time casting the 26 roles which the play provides.

"The Critic" is a burlesque on Shakespearean tragedy and is tremendously interesting in that it is something entirely different from anything the Guignol has presented in several seasons. It provides unusual costumes, from the periods of 1600 and 1779, and includes two separate stage sets, one of which will be an attempted reproduction of the old Drury Lane theater in London.

Miss Virginia Boyd will be in charge of costumes for the production, and G. L. Crutcher, the able stage manager who so successfully depicted the scene in the dugout for "Journey's End," will try his hand at the difficult task of making a realistic background for those delightful, ridiculous characters of another era. The cast of characters for "The Critic" will be announced soon and tickets will be on sale immediately after the Christmas holidays.

PALMER ADDRESSES CLUB

White Mathematics club held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, room 109, McVey hall. Prof. E. Z. Palmer, College of Commerce, talked on "Mathematics in the Business World." Next meeting of the club will be held January 11.

FORTY-SIX OUT
FOR RIFLE TEAMS

Instruction To Begin December 12; Four Officers To Assist in Coaching Candidates

PLAN INTENSE TRAINING

Forty-six candidates for the Varsity and R. O. T. C. rifle teams reported Monday, December 5 in the Armory. Preliminary instruction will begin Monday, December 12 with Capt. Harry D. Scheibla in charge. Firing will start after the Christmas holidays.

All members of last year's team, both Varsity and R. O. T. C. who have not reported for the team this year, may do so sometime before instruction starts December 12. All freshmen who are out for the R. O. T. C. team and other freshmen desiring to try out may do so on recommendation of their instructor if they have satisfactorily completed the practical work in rifle marksmanship.

Captain Scheibla announced that he would begin immediately to pick out the men capable of firing and with the following instructors, Lieut. James E. Rees, Lieut. P. E. LeStourgeon, Lieut. H. D. Criswell and Staff Sergeants Kinker and Perkins would carry out an intensive training program.

Both the Varsity and R. O. T. C. teams have interesting schedules this year. Besides the annual Hearst Trophy matches and the Fifth Corps Area match, Captain Scheibla has scheduled matches with other college and university teams and with the independent rifle teams.

Captain Scheibla said that he was pleased with the large number of candidates that turned out for the teams. He hopes to have the best Varsity and R. O. T. C. teams that the University has ever had. "To have a good team," Captain Scheibla said, "The men must show an interest in the work and be present for every practice period."

University Women
Will Hear McIntyre

Meeting Is Scheduled for 3:30 P. M. Tuesday in Patterson Hall

Prof. R. D. McIntyre will be the principal speaker for the December meeting of the Lexington chapter of the American Association of University Women. The meeting is scheduled for 3:30 p. m., Tuesday, December 13, and will be held in Patterson hall instead of at Maxwell place, according to an announcement of the change of place of meeting.

"Here and There in Music," will be the subject of the address which Professor McIntyre will present and which he will illustrate with records. Selections which will be played will be, principally, records of contemporary American compositions.

Miss Chloe Gifford, a graduate of the University Law School, and teacher at Sayre College is president of the Lexington chapter of University Women. Miss Julia Allen, Dean of Hamilton College, will preside at the December meeting and will introduce the speaker.

WILDCATS ELECT
KREUTER LEADER
OF 1933 ELEVEN

Howard "Dutch" Kreuter Is Chosen Captain of Next Year's Eleven

KERCHEVAL NAMED
ALTERNATE CAPTAIN

McVey, Gamage, and Lane Speak at Annual Banquet For Big Blue

When the Wildcat gridders again don their fighting toes with the coming of next year's football season they will go forth to the battle under the leadership of Howard "Dutch" Kreuter. At the annual football banquet held at the Lafayette hotel, Wednesday night, Kreuter was elected to succeed O. L. "Bud" Davidson, this year's captain.

The receiving of this honor by Kreuter caps two years of colorful varsity play for the Newport lad. "Dutch" Kreuter's name has become a by-word among southern sports critics because of his unusually spirited play during the past two years. Probably the most outstanding work of the new captain-elect was in the Tennessee game of last season when he scooped up a blocked punt and scampered over the Orange goal line for a touchdown and the needed counters to give the Big Blue a tie with the lads from Knoxville.

Kreuter's election to the captaincy was not unexpected as the fiery little end for sometime has been considered the outstanding candidate. Kreuter is the third member of Phi Kappa Tau to be elected to lead the Wildcats in the past six years; his predecessor was a member of Sigma Chi.

With the election of the new skipper came the naming of Kentucky's great punter and All-Southern quarterback, Ralph Kercheval, as alternate captain. Kercheval, a junior in agriculture and a member of Delta Tau Delta, will succeed George Skinner who has been the alternate captain of the Wildcats this season.

The other features on the program at the annual banquet were speeches by the retiring captain, the captain-elect, and the alternate captain-elect. All of them expressed confidence in the athletic staff of the university.

Coach Gamage was one of the principal speakers. He expressed his satisfaction over the fine showing made by this year's team despite their record of games won and lost. Gamage said he was pleased by the fight and determination shown by his men, even when they shown by his men, even when they were playing teams greatly superior to themselves both in starting and reserve material.

He cited the case of George Skinner, a light tackle, who was called upon to play against three Alabama tackles during one game, all of whom weighed over 200 pounds. Gamage promised fans and supporters of the Wildcats a better team next season, saying that the material coming up from the fine freshman team of this year will be enough to better the 'Cats' chances considerably when next season gets under way.

Frank Lane, Cincinnati official, also was a speaker at the banquet. Lane praised the Wildcats for their fine, clean playing, and expressed the opinion that they were one of the cleanest teams that he has ever been privileged to watch. Lane called the nine game schedule played. (Continued on Page Four)

IN THE BALANCE

With the howl of "Wolves" attaining a death-thrilling pitch as they savagely circle their prey, with student opinion viciously divided concerning the soundness of the incumbent system of athletic management, and with associates and employees of the athletic department struggling vigorously in the middle of the fray, the university athletic situation has reached a crisis. At this time the issue cannot be avoided. Questions involved must be settled one way or the other.

With the publication last Friday of an editorial titled "Athletic Investigation" The Kernel announced its intention of beginning a series of utterances dealing with the athletic situation. Its policy, in opening this discussion was a constructive one, designed with the stated intention of bringing athletics and the student body to closer union.
Its writings were to be discriminate but impartial. And, at the time, no controversial statements were made.

With the publication of its initial discussion, however, The Kernel found its policy misconstrued and aligned through oblique logic with the sentiments of "Wolves" howling for the "kill" of Coach Gamage.
Tuesday, therefore, The Kernel found it necessary to clarify the misinterpretation placed on its utterances, and, at the same time, to withdraw from the specific discussion which it had intended to promote.

Today, however, the situation is different. The turmoil centering about the head of Coach Harry Gamage cannot and must not be overlooked. The Kernel feels that, at this time an avoidance of its particular, and previously outlined editorial campaign is most wise. On the other hand, silence concerning the present issue would be less wise.

With this in mind The Kernel has determined to redirect the course of its previously planned campaign, seek out the causes and motives behind the much bruited charges of inefficiency, incompetence, and isolation of the present system of athletic management, determine the truthfulness, the soundness of the basis of these charges, and promote necessary reorganization of the athletic system.
And this investigation will be pushed to its end.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Members of the varsity football squad received their letters at the annual banquet given in honor of the players last night in the gold room of the Lafayette hotel. To the men who carried the Blue and White of Kentucky on the football field during the past season there were given many toasts of good fellowship and good luck.

Students, faculty and staff members, and everyone connected with the University sincerely appreciate the fine spirit that pervaded the ranks of the Big Blue this season.
Despite the handicap of a small squad of men, the players gallantly strove to keep aloft the school colors. They worked hard and faithfully to mould themselves into a winning eleven. That they did not succeed is forgotten by the supporters of the team when the praiseworthy attitude of the men is taken into view.

The Kernel wishes the football men, especially the seniors who are leaving school, all the luck and reciprocation that they may glean from their efforts in the fight of life. We shall not forget them. We hope that they do not forget us.
To the members who will carry on for Kentucky on the gridiron next season, we say, keep up the fine spirit.

ELECTION REFORM

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a series of editorials concerning the conduct of campus elections. This series is being published in an attempt to instigate much needed reform.
This editorial presents other suggested methods of election government. Students interested in achieving election reform are invited to submit their views on the subject.)
A short time ago The Kernel published an editorial concerning the conduct of campus elections, and invited suggestions from the student body. A number of constructive criticisms were received, but the dominant tone of all of them was that anything so essentially a student activity should not be taken entirely from student control, as was suggested in that editorial.

With this in mind, we will attempt a brief survey of various methods suggested. Some of them are practicable, others are not.
Some have already been tried and proved failures, and others leave loop holes for the unscrupulous. Many of them, however, have good points that may be incorporated into a method that ultimately may be adopted.

One means offered is the use of athletic ticket books to establish eligibility to vote. Although the plan as outlined is somewhat more complete than that in effect at the university two years ago when the ticket books were used in voting, it is not comprehensive enough to prevent entirely illegal methods of balloting now practiced on the campus.

Another suggestion is that, regardless of what method of voting might be adopted, the ballots bear serial numbers and stubs, as is the prevailing custom in civil elections.
Considering this a most constructive criticism, The Kernel investigated and found that the additional cost of having the ballots printed in this manner would be relatively small.

One of the most valuable suggestions received and one that at first did not appear feasible, also patterns after civil elections. This plan calls for a special registration of students, only those registering being eligible to vote. Unquestionably a good idea in itself, the plan presents difficulties that make it seem impracticable.

Detailed development of the method, however, has shown that if put into effect it will provide the student body with a means whereby it may, with some faculty assistance, conduct honest campus elections. The Kernel has been given assurance that this method will receive the support and co-operation of the deans and the faculty if it is adopted.

In a forthcoming issue we shall attempt to give a detailed explanation of the workings of this method.

ART EXHIBIT

Through the endeavors of members of the art department, a large collection of facsimile color reproductions, covering a wide range of subjects, were displayed Monday at the Art center. The paintings were in keeping with Pan-Politikon's general subject of discussion this year, "France."

The canvasses were not only of interest to members of Pan-Politi-kon, but also of interest to students of art; for the display included a number of well-known paintings and a group of modern French canvasses.

Reduced financial appropriations this year made it difficult to present an opportunity of this type for the benefit of the students. The art department will attempt to bring similar displays to the university.
The department is to be commended for its interest in arranging for the display, and its efforts to offer other displays during the year.

WANT NEW DEAL

(To the Editor of The Kernel)

Dear Sir:
Being so close to the Tennessee line the Southeastern Kentucky U. of K. Boosters have been deeply humiliated by the performance and record of the University of Kentucky's football teams during the past seven years, and especially during the past season. The University of Tennessee supporters have been very hard to tolerate.
They keep ridiculing us about Kentucky's failure to win a major conference game.

Therefore, it has been exceedingly hard for us to keep our heads up and to influence our High School stars to enter the University of Kentucky.

We have been thinking for the past few seasons that a change in the coaching staff was imperative and suggested the same to President McVey. He answered our suggestion by saying that we, as taxpayers of Kentucky and supporters of Kentucky athletics, had no right to criticize those in control of the University of Kentucky's Athletics.
To this we beg to differ.

Kentucky's Athletics are made possible only through the University of Kentucky, a tax supported institution.

If you as an employer engaged the services of anyone who for a period of seven years proved incompetent, you would not hesitate to make a change.

Mr. Harry Gamage has been working for the people of Kentucky for seven years; let us look at his record; Kentucky is the largest school in the Southern Conference; Kentucky has had more students to pick from due to the above fact; Kentucky has a good school spirit and absolute co-operation with players and students; Kentucky has the best band in Dixie; Kentucky is one of the largest states of the Southern Conference group, therefore, must have ample football material to pick from; Kentucky's Athletics are supposed to be self-supporting, consequently money is no handicap.

Mr. Gamage with all of the above assets has failed to produce a team that has won a major conference game. The men who picked him for a football coach certainly had a sense of humor, but the men responsible for keeping him after his utter failure must think that the people of Kentucky are saps, and have lost all sense of reason.

The co-ordination displayed during the period of Gamage coached teams, leads the public to believe that Mr. Gamage must have matriculated in football either through correspondence school or some barber college. He even lost the championship of Virginia this past season.

We are certainly glad that the Southern Conference prohibited the broadcasting of games during the past season. The Kentucky fans who were fortunate enough not to have attended the games, did not have to listen to the vivid description of their ignorantly coached team, thereby saving themselves deep humiliation.

No institution, whose officials tolerate such incompetency, can ever hope to progress under these conditions. We believe that we need an entire NEW DEAL.

Sincerely yours,
SOUTHEASTERN KEN-TUCKY U. OF K. BOO-STERS, Committee.

DOTES AND ANTI-DOTES

By LAWRENCE HERRON

Funny things are still being heard about that Thanksgiving trip to Knoxville, many of them unprint-able. The following happens to be printable: Treydelt Annie Preston intrigued a note questioning, "Can you come out?" and slyly shuffled it under the door of what she thought was one of the gridmen's rooms. Her consternation was unbounded when Coach Gamage ead-ed from the room.

And about all the roistering that Kentucky players are rumored to have been doing the night before the Turkey Day contest. Gridmen occupied almost the entire ninth floor of the hotel wherein they parked their collars; members of the coaching staff guarded all outside entrances. Of course, the Kentuckians may have used parachutes.

Gerald Griffin, department of journalism, is wondering about Dean Melcher. Pipe in hand and maneuvering about the environs of the Administration building, the journalist was confronted by the dean:

"Why, Mr. Griffin, you're smoking a pipe."
"But, dean," staggered Jerry, "It's not lighted."
"Well then," sniffed his accuser, "You'd better light it. I can't stand it the way it is now."

Freshmen always pull several fast ones each year. Our personal nomination for the outstanding achievement goes to Treydelt Mildred Helsley. Soon after coming to school she was seen to carefully hang her wash cloth on a chair and clamber into the bathtub with her pajamas on. Professor, salute the lady.

The old game of "dirty-nosing" continues in favor. The team of red-heads, Ken. Neil Montgomery and Fydelit Red Davis, rise to great heights by hosting one of their instructors at dinner. Rumor has it that it was a grade "A" affair.

Typewriter clicks: It still looks as though Alfataw Hugh Adcock will again direct the next Stroller production... smart ettes will get in some good work while the getting is good. Independent John B. Bolen says that what the Kernel really needs is a funny section. Neither Kahpas nor Chios knows the identities of their vice-presidents. Zetataw Helen Rith doesn't want something printed about her... and Al-fazez Edna Brown who hates to have her name in the paper is always very, very friendly. That wedding ring that Treydelt Virginia Hatcher is wearing does not deceive anybody. Dean Blanding seldom is able to eat a meal without being interrupted by a telephone call. Dr.
M. M. White, department of psychology, has written that "the emotions of love and cheerfulness, is not too strong, are a considerable aid in learning"... most of us must over do it.

The 1933 version of "another redskin bites the dust" reads like this:
"one more crimson epidermis masticates the terra firma."

Sing Sing's Star Guard "Graduates"

College presidents, alumni boards and football coaches have to worry about graduation only in June. But plump in the middle of Sing Sing's season the day comes for its team's star guard, William "Jumbo" Morano, to leave his Alma Mater flat. Morano, a robber sent up from the Bronx, is due for release on parole soon, after serving three years, eight and one-half months.

Fellow prisoners, all as anxious as Morano to be in circulation, have nevertheless let it be known that they would consider it a great boon if, somehow or other, Morano could take the equivalent of a post-graduate course that would keep him among them until after the last whistle on Thanksgiving. Morano, who is only 21 and very fond of the Bronx, hasn't said anything yet, one way or the other.

Thomas Teaches Unique Courses In Circus Stunts

Including Slack-wire Walking, Whip Cracking, Aerial Acrobatics

By JOE W. QUINN

Have you ever been to the circus? Of course you have, or there is something wrong with you. However, you probably didn't know that many of the stunts you have seen and marvelled at, are taught at the University in courses conducted by the physical education department.

These courses are instructed by Wildan Thomas, who is well fitted for the position. He has been connected with various circuses and carnivals doing acrobatic and stunt work and doubling in brass.

Among the unique courses offered are courses in Australian whip-cracking, slack-wire and tight-wire walking, aerial acrobatics, tumbling and juggling. There are also courses in mat-work, rope-spinning, rope-skiing, parallel bars, hand balancing and other forms of gym work. An especially difficult stunt for the inexperienced is whip-cracking. One of the best whip-crackers in the world is a student at the University of St. Louis. He travels with the Glee club and puts on his act during intermissions of concerts. He has also given a command performance for the King of England.

In stunt work, Mr. Thomas says, looks are deceiving. Stunts which look easy to the casual observer are often the hardest and vice versa. Work on the parallel and horizontal bars, which looks simple, requires a great deal of practice to perfect. Aerial acrobatics are dangerous because of the possibility of falling from a great height. The beginner gradually works up to this stunt by practice on lower levels.

The University of Illinois was the first school to adopt these courses in its physical education department. After this work had proved successful it was adopted by a number of other schools. Although this is only the second year that these courses have been offered at the University, a great deal of interest has been taken in them. At present, about 40 students are taking some of the special courses. In the spring, a gym carnival will be held and the pupils are to put on a show.

Mrs. James Burt Miner will preside at the meeting, which will be the last meeting to be held until after the Christmas holidays. Let's not neglect our basketball team! In fact let us concentrate on them, and as a good beginning may I suggest that you turn out for your first glimpse of the squad in action when they meet the Alumni tonight in the gym. In past years Kentucky has developed a good many outstanding basketball players and those players of history will return out of the past to match strides and baskets with a fast moving, younger bunch of present day players.

Big and Little McGinnis, Pisgah Combs, Cary Spicer, Spooks Milward, Paul McBrayer, Bill King. All of those boys are famous. For instance, way back in 1922 Bill King played for Kentucky and they had advanced to the finals in the tournament. The score was tie, and as the final gun boomed a Kentucky man was fouled. In those good days the team could choose anyone of the players to shoot the foul. King was chosen. The southern championship depended on that toss—and he made it to win Kentucky's only southern championship by his one point margin. Cary Spicer and Little McGinnis played in a final game in the southern conference. They lost in a fair raising finish in which they came from behind to overcome a heart-breaking lead to finally lead the opponents only to lose by an impossible shot from mid floor as the gun sounded. George Yates played with that same team as well as Ellis Johnson.

On that record alone, I would predict a splendid game. Each of the boys has had his spectacular moments. And there are more to come. Remember the place and the time!

Incidentally, bowling is being dropped as an Intramural sport this year, and perhaps from now on. It seems that there is but one alley in Lexington and the owners feel that they have a monopoly on the business. Director Hackensmith attempted to reach a fair price with Ammerman, but to no avail. The standard price of the downtown alley is 55 cents for a three game series. Hack suggested, 10 cents a game and 5 cents for the judge per set of three games. That would bring the price down to 35 cents a game of three. As every fraternity on the campus must enter a team, it would mean about $35 to Ammerman plus what ever money he would take in on practice games. He stands a good chance of converting several of the tournament players into ardent fans.

In this day and time such a move on the part of any business man is contrary to good sense.

The Jester hears that there are two times to address the golf ball. Before and after swinging!

LIFE's little ups and downs don't mean a thing to a true Shredded Wheat fan. He can take it! And so can you, if you get the energy that's packed away in these 100% whole wheat, 100% good to eat, biscuits!

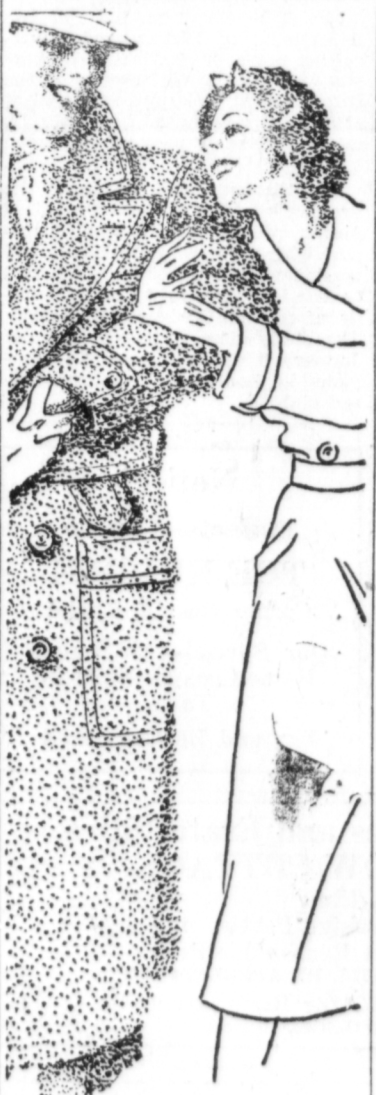

Shove a couple overboard into a nice bowl of milk or cream. In Shredded Wheat all the energy elements that smart old Nature put into wheat are right in those golden-brown biscuits. And note that flavor! Quick, waiter, we want more!

When you see Niagara Falls on the package, you KNOW you have Shredded Wheat.

Neither Coach Rupp nor Captain McGinnis have intimated their starting line-ups but from the way things have been going it looks as if the following would be the starting array for the two teams.

Alumni—L. McGinnis, Spicer or Combs, forwards; S. Milward, center; McBrayer, B. McGinnis or Bronston, guards.

Wildcats—DeMoisey, Darby or Kreuter, forwards; Sale, center; Johnson and B. Davis, guards.

game, you will be impressed by the type of play used by these teams. Their play is not spectacular except at rare intervals and most of the scores follow steady marches and line plays.

Little is known of the strength of the Spartans who are expected to arrive in Lexington sometime tonight, but they are said to use a power-style of play that wears down opponents.

The game is being sponsored by the University Alumni association. Tickets are on sale on the campus and at four downtown stores. Kelly says he is ready to go again and, playing on a familiar field, should regain his old time form. Captain Cagle announced his starting line-up as follows: Badgro and Campbell, ends; Irwin and Owens, tackles; Caywood and Gibson, guards; Murtaugh, center; Cagle, quarterback; Burnette and Clancy, halves; and Molenda, fullback.

O. D. K. SING POSTPONED

The Omicron Delta Kappa interfraternity sing, scheduled for Friday night, December 9, has been postponed until after the Christmas holidays because it conflicted with the Alumni-Kentucky basketball game that night.

Election of Officers Conducted by Cwens

At a meeting held at 5 p. m. yesterday in the reading room of Boyd hall, Cwens, women's sophomore honorary fraternity held their annual election of officers. Nell Montgomery, former president, presided at the meeting.

The new officers selected are Louise Johnson, Delta Delta Delta, president; Elizabeth Hardin, vice-president; Mary Higgins, Delta Zeta, secretary; and Dorothy Day, Alpha Gamma Delta, treasurer.

Plans were made by the group to take one of the rooms in the Women's building now undergoing remodeling on the campus, and to meet the first week after Christmas holidays to make a final decision on the Cwens sing, a contest held among the sororities similar to that held by O. D. K. for the men.

Wildcats Choose Kreuter as Captain ed by the Wildcats' suicidal, saying that no team with such a small squad could expect to do better.

Pres. Frank L. McVey, another speaker, joined with others in praising Coach Gamage and in expressing his confidence in the athletic council. McVey said that in the future the students would have more of a voice in the affairs of the athletic council, but he did not explain the nature of the change.

At the banquet the seniors on the squad were awarded gold footballs, and members of the scrubs were given checker boards made from the substitutes benches. Varsity letters and freshman numerals were awarded.

S. A. "Daddy" Boles, athletic director at the university awarded 28 letters, the largest number to be given in recent years, to the members of the varsity team. The following were awarded letters, Frank Seale, Ralph Blevins, Frank Gibson, O. L. Davidson, John Drury, George Skinner, Joe Rupert, Tom Cassady, Darrell Darby, Ralph Kercheval, Stanley Bach, Howard Kreuter, Ellis Johnson, Burton Aldridge, Tate Duff, Frank Wagner, William Luther, Robert Montgomery, Bo Meyers, Harry Walker, James Miller, Douglas Parrish, Holton Pribble, E. L. Asher, and John Frye.

Jack Strother was awarded the manager's letter and Lloyd Featherston was named manager for the 1933 season. Joe Wheat was named alternate manager.
